RECRUITING REINVENTED

We created our recruiting company, Connectalent, in 2019 to encourage moms to find their work/life balance and help companies attract and retain female talent. As working moms to young children, we understand the struggles firsthand and have always championed flexible work opportunities, or "flexwork," as the best solution for both employees and employers.

Fortunately, after COVID forced many companies to hastily implement work from home policies, it appears that flexwork is here to stay for the foreseeable future, in some capacity. Employers are now starting to ramp up hiring, seeking professionals in various fields to work partially from home on a full time, part time, or contract basis. This sea change (minus the child care and COVID crisis itself), will hopefully help companies retain their talented female professionals, benefit working moms, and attract women back to the workforce after a career break.

Since we launched Connectalent last year on the premise of promoting flexwork, we are now in a prime position to help employers find their perfect fit in this new world, where flexible and remote work is the norm!
