Connectalent, in partnership with Indeed & the Westport
Library, hosts: Returning to Work with Confidence

A FREE in person workshop & networking event for mothers returning to work after Covid

Westport, CT —Connectalent, in partnership with Indeed & the Westport Library, will host Returning to Work with Confidence at the Westport Library on October 5th, featuring members of the Women @ Indeed internal resource group from Indeed.com. During the workshop, participants will learn how to best position themselves when applying to jobs through Indeed and will explore the resources available through Indeed to simplify their job search. Connectalent will advise participants on how to fill any gaps in their resumes and provide helpful interviewing and networking tips.

The event will be FREE for all participants and participants will be required to pre-register at <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/returning-to-work-with-confidence-tickets-166233227057>.

Registration will be on a first come-first serve basis and limited to 50 participants. Participants will be given the opportunity to network between 6:30-7:00 PM followed by the main workshop and Q&A from 7:00-8:00 PM in the Trefz Forum section of the library. The Westport Library is located at 20 Jesup Rd, Westport, CT. Light refreshments and cocktails will be served. Masks are required.

Returning to Work with Confidence will also give participants ample time to network with other professionals from similar and different backgrounds and industries. “Networking is one of the most powerful tools in a prospective job search, especially after taking a hiatus from the workforce.” explains Runa Knapp, co-founder at Connectalent. “We are excited to partner with Indeed to provide Fairfield County moms this opportunity to connect and widen their professional network.”

Caroline Coffey, Director of Sales & lead of Women @ Indeed says, “Our mission at Indeed is to help people get jobs and we love any chance to help our local community. Women and caretakers have been disproportionately affected by unemployment during COVID, so we are extremely excited to partner with Connectalent on this event.”

Connectalent seeks to connect skilled professionals with employers who value work/life balance. Connectalent’s platform helps companies achieve diversity, inclusion, and greater efficiency in the workplace, and empowers local professionals to seek modern opportunities.
